I. CATALOG DESCRIPTION

Course Number:	ECED1630
Course Title:	Preschool Practicum
Prerequisite or Co-requisite:	Taken with or after ECED1220 and ECED1120

Catalog Description: This course is designed to provide an understanding of the developmental stages of children from three to five years of age by participating in hands-on learning experiences in diverse early childhood care and education settings. Students will develop an awareness of appropriate adult/child interaction while developing positive employee skills. Basic skills in planning and implementing a daily routine and curriculum activities for children from three to five years of age are also presented. Students are required to complete a minimum of 45 clock hours of practical experience. A passing grade of “C” or better is required for all ECED majors.

Credit Hours: 1.0 semester credit hours/1.5 quarter credit hours

II. COURSE OBJECTIVES AND COMPETENCIES

The course will:

1. Describe how to be a professional early childhood educator, including ethics, integrity, communication skills, policies, regulations, and routines of the early childhood setting and supervising college program.
2. Explore the developmental stages of children from three to five years of age and the developmentally appropriate preschool learning environment, guidance, and interactions.
3. Describe and utilize the various methods of observation and the guidelines associated with each method to use with children from three to five years of age.
4. Develop and implement appropriate curriculum plans and supervisory skills for children from three to five years of age including considerations for adaptations for children with special needs, and to ensure each child’s health, safety, and overall well-being.
5. Develop an awareness for and appreciation of individual likenesses and differences among children, families, and colleagues.

III. STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

Students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate through attendance, timeliness and professionalism that shows commitment to the profession/program.

2. Identify the developmental stages of children using an appropriate instrument for children from three to five years of age.
3. Analyze the preschool environment utilizing standard program quality assessment indicators.
4. Reflect on guidance/interaction techniques used at the cooperating site.
5. Complete and analyze child observations, using a variety of techniques appropriate for children from three to five years of age.
6. Assist the cooperating educator in managing the early childhood environment to promote health, safety, and emotional well-being of each child.
7. Plan and implement developmentally appropriate learning experiences for young children from three to five years of age.
8. Follow policies, regulations and routines in the early childhood setting and of the supervising college.
9. Reflect on professional behaviors, attitudes, ethics, and communication skills involved in working with young children, their parents, and other staff members.

V. INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS

Suggested Text: [This list of texts should be reviewed annually. The instructor may choose additional materials as supplements.]

Harms, Thelma, Clifford, Richard M, and Cryer, Debby, Early Childhood Environment Rating Scale-Revised Edition (ECERS-3), 2015, Teacher's College Press. Third edition.

Early Childhood Education Practicum Manual – Specific to each individual college.

Supplemental Textbooks:

“Early Learning Guidelines: Nebraska's Birth to Five Learning and Development Standards.” Early Learning Guidelines: Nebraska's Birth to Five Learning and Development Standards – Nebraska Department of Education, 2019, www.education.ne.gov/oec/early-learning-guidelines/.

The student may need to purchase additional materials for this course to provide concrete learning experiences for children.

Supplemental hand-outs, slides, videos, and Open Educational Resources (OERs) as determined by instructor.

VI. METHODS OF INSTRUCTION

The student is expected to take the primary responsibility for learning. The student is provided the opportunity to have actual experiences with children and staff in an early childhood program. Instruction methods will include, but not be limited to demonstration, discussion, and observation. Students may be required to provide videotapes of teaching demonstrations. Interactive sessions (held in person or by email) will encourage students to examine their experiences and get feedback from others. Individual conferences (held in person, by email, or by phone) with the instructor will help guide the students toward improved skills in a preschool early childhood setting.

VII. METHODS OF EVALUATION

Students may be assessed by attendance at the practicum site, observation from the on-site supervisor, reflection journals and their own self-evaluation using an evaluation instrument provided by the instructor. Students will be assessed on the quality and developmentally appropriateness of the plans and materials utilized to implement experiences for preschool-age children. Students will also be assessed based upon their communication with staff, children and parents in the early childhood setting.

Through practicum experiences, students are being trained as potential employees in the early childhood profession. Employability is based not only on working skills but also on attendance, punctuality, dependability, and attitude. The student's scheduled time in practicum is very important. It is of extreme importance that students be present and on time. The children and staff are depending on students as an important part of the total program team. Employment skills will be part of the overall assessment for this class.

Other evaluations may include: observation from the on-site supervisor, reflection journals, and self-evaluation using an evaluation instrument provided by the instructor. Students will be assessed on the quality and developmentally appropriateness of the plans and materials utilized to implement experiences for preschool-age children. Students will also be assessed based upon their communication with children, families, and colleagues in the preschool setting.

VIII. INSTITUTIONAL DEFINED SECTION
